This worksheet is designed to help you plan your major, but it is not a substitute for advising. At a minimum, you should consult a faculty advisor as soon as you decide to major in Humanities, and again in the semester before the semester in which you expect to graduate. We encourage you to meet with your advisor whenever you need academic advice.

The Humanities faculty members listed below are academic advisors. You may contact any of us to make an appointment for advising. Check the department website (humanities.sfsu.edu) for updated information on faculty office hours and availability.
